

F.A.Q. the change of Basic price

1. Why accommodation price is changing?

The basic price is determined on the basis of the general economic situation. As you may notice – the prices of services and goods have significantly increased over the last two years, the minimum wage has increased several times. For the above reasons, in order to continue to ensure the investment in improvement of dormitory infrastructure, in coordination with the Department of Student Affairs, the KTU Student union and Dormitory Board the Basic price increased and the process is approved by the Order of the Rector of the University NR. A-355.

2. When the new accommodation prices will come into force?

New accommodation prices will come into force:

- To all newly accommodating students – from 16th July 2018
- To current Residents and those who will be relocating to cheaper place (until 13th July) – from 1st November 2018 (All Residents will be informed personally via academic e-mail regarding the price change).
- To current Residents who will be relocating after Freshman accommodation process – from the first day of the established relocation.

3. My room condition was evaluated recently, is this change of the price the same as the increase regarding evaluation?

The price change due to the evaluation of the condition of the room is a separate process and concerns only the residents whose room condition has changed. These changes in prices will come into force according to other predefined terms about which the necessary residents have been informed personally by academic e-mail.

Changes of the Basic price will come into effect individually in the above-mentioned terms.

4. Where I can find the new price of my place in the dormitory?
